The Rune lounge system, laid to rest on the Germanic battlefield for thousands of years, now unearthed to be revered as a relic of a higher civilisation from the past with a secret agenda. Seemingly chaotic and undecipherable at first, the amorphous shapes evoke a language of their own, speaking volumes about flexible arrangements and endless tessellation for customising spaces. A series of precise angles and specifically configured edges allow the units to be spatially arranged in clusters which are scalable and adaptable for lounge spaces and communal waiting areas.
