The pHlask lab-ware range literally makes 'light' of science. Reminiscent of days spent in the school lab, these pendants command a second look. Rather than functioning as a vessel for a chemical reaction, where the stopper acts to restrict the contents of the flask; the stoppers in these pHlasks allow light to radiate beyond the enclosed volume to fill any room. Available in 3 sizes, the pendants can be suspended in clusters or as single units to create a lab-like feeling in any space. Made from high temp Borosilicate, German made lab glass.
